Description
Provide a short description of the event and its activities.
The event was a local roundtable, the PACT Problem-Mapping Workshop: Inclusive Cities, Open Municipalities, organized by the Konkáv Foundation on June 24, 2026, at the Ferencvárosi Művelődési Központ in Budapest. It brought together 38 participants, including municipal officials, civil society leaders, minority self-government representatives, and local residents (including Roma and migrant-background communities), to foster dialogue between public administration, civil society, and residents in the Ferencváros district.

Activities: The core activity was an interactive problem-mapping workshop using the World Café methodology, where participants rotated through three thematic discussion tables covering:

1. Barriers to engagement and communication – gaps in municipal outreach and accessibility of public forums.
2. Equal opportunities and the integration environment – segregation, urban rehabilitation, and civic participation in district development.
3. Local cooperation and networking – fragmented referral systems between the municipality, family support services, police, and schools.

Through this structured dialogue, participants identified concrete barriers, needs, and recommendations for improving participatory processes, and shared existing local good practices (like coordination meetings between civil society and the Family and Child Welfare Centre, and the Ferencváros Youth Council) as models to build on.
